UNION HEADS MAY OPPOSE EXTENSION

By NORMAN WALKER
NEW YORK (AP) — Steel union leaders huddled today to frame an answer to a steel industry proposal to extend present labor contracts indefinitely beyond a scheduled Tuesday midnight expiration.

A number of members of the 33-man union Executive Board said privately they favored outright rejection of the extension plan. But others suggested a union counter offer may be in the making that might also avoid a July 1 strike.

David J. McDonald, steelworkers president, declined to say in advance what course he will recommend to the Executive Board this morning and 171-man international Wage Policy Committee this afternoon.

Union leaders were known to feel that an extension of any kind likely would be useless because of the industry's position that it won't take on new employment cost obligations of any character.

There was a speculation that the union may come up with a counter-proposal for a contract extension of fixed duration, possibly a month, with a proviso that any eventual contract changes be made retroactive to the present June 30 expiration date.

Top steel industry leaders were reported standing by in New York awaiting the union decision. No negotiating sessions were scheduled as the bargaining hit its worst deadlock in the eight-week contract talks.

R. Conrad Cooper, executive vice president of U. S. Steel Corp. and top industry spokesman, made two things clear Wednesday.

One was that steel firms are agreed they won't boost present labor costs. The other was that they are willing to negotiate in (Turn to Page Twenty-Two)

Fight Postponed Until Friday Due To Bad Weather

BULLETIN
NEW YORK (AP) — The heavy-weight title fight between champion Floyd Patterson and Sweden's Ingemar Johansson at Yankee Stadium today was postponed until 9:30 p. m. EST Friday night because of bad weather.

Promoter Bill Rosenzohn said he made his decision earlier than planned because of threatening weather and condition of the infield at the stadium.

The 15-round bout had been scheduled for 9:30 p. m. EST tonight.

The city was swept by heavy early morning rains and afternoon showers were forecast. It cleared shortly after noon but another heavy rain set in just as Rosenzohn announced the postponement.

The promoter said that Jim Thompson, superintendent of the stadium grounds, had advised that the infield was so soaked that 10 hours of sunshine would be needed to restore it to a firm condition.

Congress Studying New Tax Measure to Finance Roads

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — A simple tax extension bill mushroomed today into a possible vehicle for financing interstate highways, wiping out a passenger travel tax and revising other levies.

The need for meeting a July 1 deadline complicated the Senate's problem as it headed into a marathon session to consider proposed amendments to the revenue measure.

The bill as passed by the House June 8 would extend for another year the present rates on various income and corporate income taxes. Unless it becomes law by July 1, these would drop to pre-Korean war levels, and government revenues would decline an estimated

Democratic Leader Says He Has Enough G. O. P. Votes To Pass Lawrence Tax Bills

By HERB LINNEN

HARRISBURG (AP) — Rep. Stephen McCann, House Democratic leader, said today he has enough votes without Republican help to pass three administration tax bills which have been stalled in the House.

McCann said he would decide on Monday whether to force a showdown vote on the measures—two of which have been defeated once—next week.

"I have asked to meet with Republican leaders and after that I'll announce whether there'll be a vote next week," said McCann. "We are in a position now to pass certain tax bills with only Democratic votes."

He also expressed confidence that Gov. Lawrence "will present an up-to-date picture concerning estimated revenue, taxation and budget matters" in a special appearance before a joint session of the Legislature Monday.

Lawrence asked permission Wednesday to address the Legislature. But he didn't say what he would talk about.

The three tax measures listed by McCann would bring in an estimated 77 million dollars in the next two years. They would:

Increase the six-mill bank share tax to 10 mills (12 million).

Place a six-mill tax on such intangible goods as stocks and bonds (55 million).

Levy a 14-mill gross receipts levy on gas companies (10 million).

Meantime, a Senate Republican leader expressed hope that Lawrence's address on Monday would throw new light on the revenue picture.

Said Sen. James S. Berger (Potter), GOP floor leader: "We can only hope that his (revenue) estimates will be somewhat higher than in the past because we feel that they can be."

Lawrence has insisted that he will not balance his record 1959-61 budget by overestimating yields from revenue sources.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, House GOP leader, said Lawrence's request for time to address the joint session without disclosing its purpose has "created an atmosphere under which he will have to come up with something unusual to justify his dramatic appearance."

Lawrence Urges Bowers To Return to Old Post

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Lawrence would like to have Clarence Bowers, a Reading battery manufacturer, return as a member of the State Labor Relations Board. Bowers was fired from the post by former Gov. George M. Leader in November 1957. He has filed a suit which contends he was dismissed illegally without cause from the $5,500-a-year job.

In a statement Wednesday Lawrence said: "Because of his ability and experience, I would be most happy to have Clarence Bowers return as a member of the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board."

Bowers ran unsuccessfully against Lawrence for the Democratic U. S. Senate nomination in the 1958 primary campaign.

MODERATE QUAKE

NEW YORK (AP) — A moderate earthquake, probably in the Pacific Ocean off the coast of Mexico, was recorded today by the Fordham University seismograph. The shocks were registered at 1:53:42 a. m. EST and 1:59:19.

7,000 Steelworkers in Pittsburgh Area Idle

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Approximately 7,000 Pittsburgh district members of the United Steelworkers remained idle because of strikes today.

A strike at the Southside plant of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation's Pittsburgh Works entered its fourth day. About 1,800 open heart workers struck Sunday in an incentive pay dispute. Nearly 4,000 other workers refused to pass picket lines.

Both the company and the union agree the strike violates the no-strike clause of the contract which expires at midnight June 30.

Picks Wrong Steed For Horseback Ride

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Paul Vernon, 29, felt a powerful urge to take a horseback ride. But he picked the wrong steed.

Spotting a horse standing with empty saddle on a downtown street, Vernon leaped on its back and went cantering off.

But before you could say "he went that-a-way" the regular rider, Policeman Edwin Waddell, burst from a lunchroom and collared Vernon as he went clopping down an alley.

Vernon was charged with being intoxicated.

Argentina Is On The Brink Of Revolution

By ROMAN JIMENEZ

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Argentina seemed near the brink of revolution today, with President Arturo Frondizi beset by continuing rebelliousness in military circles and the threat of mass protests by Communist and Peronist labor unions.

Government officials continued to claim that the threat to the government had been averted by Frondizi's reshuffle of his cabinet and particularly by the appointment of a leading advocate of free enterprise, Alvaro Alsogaray, to head the economic and labor ministries.

Other sources said certain high military leaders were far from satisfied and sentiment in favor of ousting Frondizi was still strong in the armed forces.

Long in Surprise Broadcast Predicts Victory in Court

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long Wednesday night assured the people of Louisiana he is sane and predicted he would win his freedom from a mental hospital in a court test Friday.

In a surprise radio interview taped in the ward where he rests 79 miles from his empty capital office, Long said:

"If I felt for one second that my mentality wasn't equal to the occasion of running the governor's office, I'd resign."

The night also brought a series of unexpected moves.

1. Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlion filed papers reportedly contesting the jurisdiction of the Covington court where Long is to wage his habeas corpus freedom battle Friday.

2. Long's chief counsel, Joe Arthur Sims of Hammond, answered Gremlion's shift strategy by saying: "I'm satisfied we're in the right court."

3. Judge Robert D. Jones of Covington's 22nd Judicial District Court declined to indicate which way his judicial leanings would swing. He said he would comment in court "when and if I am called upon to rule."

Sims said he taped the interview with the governor because of the press of phone calls on Long's health. New Orleans station WNOE broadcast it and then made it available to statewide radio and television stations.

"I've been undermined by my nephew (Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.)) by my wife, and my supposed cousin, Dr. Arthur Long in Baton Rouge," the 63-year-old governor charged in a high-pitched voice. The three signed Long's original commitment papers and spirited him to Galveston, Tex., on May 30.

Starkweather Calmly Pays With His Life

By ODELL HANSON

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Mass killer Charles Starkweather, calm and self-controlled to the end, paid with his life today for a brutal blood letting 17 months ago.

One ironic hitch marked the electric chair execution: The prison physician who was to have pronounced Starkweather dead, suffered a heart attack and died.

Dr. B. A. Finkel, 75, was stricken just a half hour before the midnight execution. Alternates carried on.

The finale to the story of the ne'er-do-well ex-garage hauler blamed for 11 knife and gun killings came at 12:05 a. m. CST in white painted basement execution chamber at the Nebraska State Penitentiary.

The 20-year-old killer had no last words.

At 12:01 a. m. he walked unassisted into the chamber, glanced at some 35 assembled witnesses, managed a kind of smile and ambled up the bulky, wooden execution chair.

His head was shaven of its red hair and a trouser leg had been cut off to accommodate the electrical contacts.

A curtain was drawn in front of the witnesses as Starkweather was strapped in the chair.

The curtain opened. A half mask covered the killer's face. "Is there anything you would like to say?" asked Deputy Warden John Greenholtz.

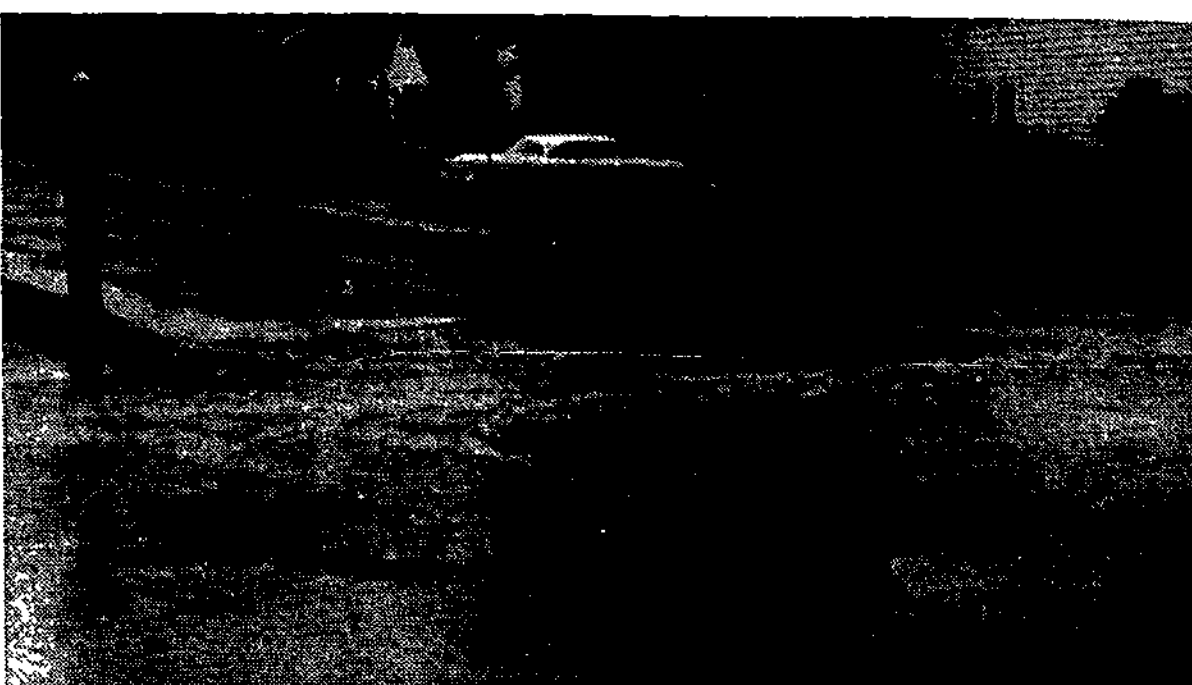

Starkweather shook his head negatively. "An eye mask was affixed and the executioner, out of sight behind a partition, got the signal."

At the 2,200 volt charge, Starkweather's body strained against its bonds.

The execution followed a day of frantic effort by Starkweather's family and Washington, D. C., attorneys.

Section Near Proposed New High School Is Plagued Again

Six inches of water floods the Pioneer-Conewango avenue intersection as waters swirled down Fifth street extension hill top site of the high school. Accompanying the escaping waters was a deposit of mud and stones. A miniature cloudburst caused the damage when it struck Warren about 10:15 A. M. Passing quickly, over an inch of rain was deposited.

Wednesday Smith boarded the Florida-bound Dixie Flier at Estill Springs, Tenn., for an eight-minute ride to Decherd, Tenn.

Satchmo Gravely Ill of Pneumonia, Reported Serious

By STAN CARTER

SPOLETO, Italy (AP) — Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong, who trumpeted his way to the top ranks of jazz, lay gravely ill in a coma here tonight.

Italian doctors said the leather-lunged musician had suffered heart disturbances which seriously complicated an attack of pneumonia. He fell ill with pneumonia.

Marries in Hospital After Appendectomy

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)

It seemed that every time Viola Clark and Rodney Hoeftel planned to get married something interfered.

Twice they postponed the wedding because of illness in their immediate families.

This week it happened again. Miss Clark went to the hospital with appendicitis and had an operation on what would have been her wedding day.

Enough of postponements, the young couple decided. They were married Wednesday in her hospital room.

Ninth Anniversary of Start of Korean War

SEOUL, Korea (AP)

The ninth anniversary of the start of the Korean War was marked today by:

1. A repeat of the Communist charge that John Foster Dulles touched off the war.

2. An American denial of this, and a statement that the Reds started the conflict with Soviet backing.

3. Anti-American rallies in Communist China, North Korea and Tokyo.

4. Rallies in South Korea featuring banners inscribed "Fight the Communists to achieve unification" and "Remember the day of disgrace".

Toy Cannons Exempt In Fireworks Bill

HARRISBURG (AP) — Now

you can shoot off a toy cannon on the Fourth of July without breaking the law.

Gov. Lawrence Wednesday signed a bill amending Pennsylvania's anti-fireworks law to exempt toy cannons which fire tiny calcium carbide charges.

Rolling waters gathered mud on its rampage across the high school site on Fifth street extension and once again plagued Lookout street area residents.

Wild, muddy waters raced down Terrace street, washing rocks and gravel into the Terrace-Orchard intersection.

Pioneer and Glade avenue also experienced some of the muddy waters.

The mud deposit near the high school site is not as great as was the flooding there on June 12. Some damage was caused as several inches of mud was left lying on Lookout street properties.

Darkened skies cut visibility. Motorists were forced to drive with head lights on. Water spouted two feet into the air from a utility hole in front of Salvation Army building.

A similar storm struck the Erie and Corry areas about two hours earlier this morning at 8:00. About $50,000 damage was reported in Corry from the cloudburst there. Fire departments from Corry and Columbus aided Civil Defense workers in clearing storm damage.

Lightning knocked out telephone service in Waterford and electric service in vicinity of Port Erie airport. The airport switched to emergency service.

Water rushed into the basement of Soldiers and Sailors home, flooding the boiler room. Emergency crews from the fire department pumped the water from the basement.

Weather man says we'll receive more showers, possibly this afternoon, and some Friday afternoon and evening. Temperatures will average in the 85-degree bracket both days.

Three Killed As Truck Speeds Out of Control

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — A semi-trailer grain truck speeding out of control down a hill without brakes hit a car and smashed into two homes Wednesday night. Three persons died and four others were injured.

The impact sent the truck's heavy load of grain through the wall of the first house and into another, around the corner.

Killed were Ralph Redlin, 50, Ellendale, N.D., the truck driver and his wife, Ruby, 33, and Martin Cich, 26, Superior, Wis., whose car was struck by the truck.

The Sunday sales issue has been before the courts on several occasions in the past year.

As the testimony droned on, Speaker H. G. Andrews, committee chairman, had difficulty maintaining order. The proceedings were interrupted often by applause, remarks and other outbursts.

Urging passage, William H. Hager Jr., Lancaster, president of the Pennsylvania Retailers Assn., said the future working conditions of 550,000 retail employees were involved.

He said the resulting competitive impact from increased Sunday operations "will soon force other retailers to open on Sunday in order to survive." This, added Hager, would mean eventually that a large percentage of workers might face Sunday labor.

A similar view was offered by Joseph A. McDonough, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor.

PRESIDENT PLANS TOUR OF SEAWAY

By BELMAN MORIN

MONTREAL (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II faced another packed, 13-hour program in Montreal today. She was to make appearances at nine functions, two of them for children.

Friday, with President Eisenhower and Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, she will formally open the St. Lawrence Seaway, then cruise through part of the waterway on her yacht Britannia.

The Seaway opening and the cruise are the climactic events of the six-week tour of Canada which the Queen and Prince Philip began a week ago today.

The blue and white royal yacht berthed at Montreal with some unsightly but unimportant scratches on her gleaming hull—sustained while Prince Philip was bringing her to the pier side at the town of Trois Rivières earlier in the day.

Philip, who is an officer of the Royal Navy, was at the helm at Trois Rivières when the yacht scraped against the dock, scratching paint on her starboard side near the stern.

MONTREAL (AP) — President Eisenhower, who shuns the U. S. presidential yacht, will board Queen Elizabeth's plush Britannia Friday and cruise with the Queen along 31 miles of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The two chiefs of state will meet at Montreal to formally open the (Turn to Page Twenty-two) possibility that President Eisenhower might veto a $4,656,746,581 health-labor money bill that pierces his budget ceiling was raised today by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.).

Health-Money Labor Bill Is Facing a Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — The

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, said in an interview he thinks Eisenhower is so determined to balance the budget he may well take the unusual course of rejecting the major money measure.

No chief executive has vetoed a major appropriations bill since 1948, when Congress overrode former President Truman's rejection of a labor-federal security money measure.

Guided by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate passed the bill by a lopsided 83-10 vote Wednesday. Previously it had thrashed, 70-26, a move by Dirksen to send it back to committee with instructions to cut the money total down to the $3,691,000,000 Eisenhower requested. The House had voted a $3,849,000,000 total.

Johnson, a heart attack victim as was Eisenhower, led the fight in committee and in the Senate for a 480 million dollar allotment for wide-scale research programs.

Cancer, heart and mental health research would consume the lion's share of these funds which were in constant dread of being drowned or starving to death if the (Turn to Page Twenty-two)

Old Blue Laws Assailed and Praised Before Committee

Sunday retail sales were both assailed and praised Wednesday in thousands of words of testimony before a House committee.

At a five-hour hearing that attracted an overflow turnout, the House Rules Committee heard divergent views from spokesmen for business, labor, church and civic groups.

They commented on a Senate-passed bill which would increase penalties for Sunday sales of such items as hardware, appliances, furniture, jewelry and toys.

The bill would provide a fine of $100 for the first offense and $200 for each subsequent offense within one year. Present law, on the books since 1794, limits the fine to $4 and costs.

The Sunday sales issue has been before the courts on several occasions in the past year.

As the testimony droned on, Speaker H. G. Andrews, committee chairman, had difficulty maintaining order. The proceedings were interrupted often by applause, remarks and other outbursts.

Urging passage, William H. Hager Jr., Lancaster, president of the Pennsylvania Retailers Assn., said the future working conditions of 550,000 retail employees were involved.

Boyle's Column

By FRANCIS STILLEY
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)
NEW YORK (AP)—My son, caring 14, had his first date the other night. His parents are still trying to recover.
The occasion was a dance for the junior high school graduating class. They didn't have such things back in Tecumseh, Okla., when father was a boy.
To start with, Master Brennan Stilley didn't hanker to attend the dance at all. It wasn't because he didn't know how to dance. He does. They teach it in schools here nowadays.

For days mother scurried about. New shoes, new shirt, new tie. Letting out the coat sleeves of his one good suit to cover his gangly arms. Getting the suit cleaned and pressed.
The great night finally arrived. Mother gave son an endless review of previous instructions in the social graces.
Father did likewise, taking the lad aside to slip him a five-spot for running expenses. The budding

Lothario also was urged not to make a nitwit of himself by abandoning his date at the dance to gather and gab with the other yaps.
Father tied son's tie, combed his hair and loaded him into the family car with another boy to pick up their dates and transport them. The dates, who happened to be twins, were escorted out of their dwelling and what did the boys do?
Climbed into the back seat and left the girls standing. Dad had to hustle out, open the door in embarrassment and put them in the front seat.

Sonny boy had said not to wait up. Said he could walk his girl home and make it back to the old homestead without any help. Nevertheless mother, as mothers do, waited up.

About midnight the young swain ambled in. His mother simply couldn't resist. "How did the dance turn out?" was the way she put it.

"My feet hurt," was all the reply she got.

CENTURY OF COMPASSION

As men talk disarmament even as they add to their stores of arms, so they find room for compassion amid the brutalities of war.

Out of this paradox was born the Red Cross 100 years ago on a battlefield in Italy.

It began with the humane responses of a young French noncombatant, Henri Dunant, who was horrified at the waste and suffering of war as he saw it in 1859.

His hastily recruited band of civilian volunteers treated the wounded and dying in the world's first real exhibition of organized concern for men in distress.

From this grew the great international organization we know today, embracing 120 million members in 82 countries. It is devoted, as we all know, to alleviating human suffering in both war and peace, without regard to national boundary or other limit.

The Red Cross symbol is at once the enduring mark of man's compassion and the steady proof that, even in the stress of great conflict, all men, as Dunant said, are brothers.

And yesterday, at Chapter Headquarters in Market street, a total of 117 pints of blood were donated by as many donors—and some of the precious fluid may be used in emergency accident cases over the Fourth of July weekend.

OUR GIRLS SEEK NEW FRONTIERS

The popularity of TV Westerns may prove that most of us dream of relieving history—and making some of our own. Eight Girl Scouts from the Warren-Forest Council will soon be sharing this once-in-a-lifetime adventure. Selected to attend the Girl Scout Senior Roundup next month, they'll join in building a city of tents on the historic plains below Pikes Peak and help celebrate the Colorado Centennial.

The Senior Roundup will be the largest gathering of teen-age girls ever held in the United States. Recalling the "Pike's Peak or Bust" slogan of the 1859 Colorado gold seekers, the 1959ers will be seeking a "fortune" in friendship, discovering the frontiers of today and the promise of tomorrow. These new pioneers will come from 49 states, all U. S. territories and more than 20 countries around the globe.

Scouts at the Roundup from Warren-Forest Council will be representing the best of everything this region has to offer, and on their return will share with us the highlights of their adventures into new frontiers. Meanwhile every Scout, in helping to prepare demonstrations, exhibits, swaps, photographs and paintings, is learning to appreciate more fully the past, present and future of this community.

Once again the Girl Scouts are helping us to re-affirm our faith in the courage, enthusiasm and confidence of today's young people!

WORLD TODAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Time, like an old lady with a broom, has swept the Berlin crisis under the rug. But it's still there and pretty soon it will have to be faced again.

Strangely, although everybody knows how the crisis started, nobody seems to know why even though it's been examined and talked about for almost seven months.

It was last Nov. 27 that Premier Nikita Khrushchev warned the Western Allies to get their troops out of West Berlin although they've had them there since World War II days.

Since then most Western thinking has been occupied with wondering whether Khrushchev was determined to force a showdown with the West or whether he could be negotiated out of it.

But the why of what he did remains a mystery. So does his yearning for a summit conference, which began about the same time.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who told the nation Tuesday night about his troubles with the Soviets, negotiated six weeks with them at Geneva to reach some understanding about Berlin.

Then the West and the Soviet Union decided to take a breather. They recessed until July 13 when they'll meet again in Geneva. At the rate they've been going, the summer may be over before they reach an agreement or break off altogether.

So the crisis, out of sight at least until mid-July, must be faced again.

The Soviets, who have striven hard to keep their satellite world tight and intact, must consider the Western troops in West Berlin, and even the city itself with its inhabitants linked to the West, as a cancerous condition.

The city, 110 miles inside Communist East Germany, is an island of two million free people right in the heart of the Communist world. And their interests and allegiances are turned westward.

Khrushchev could have had several reasons for precipitating this crisis with his Nov. 27 warning:

1. He may have felt that the Soviet Union—for whom the West Berlin situation has long been a sore spot—is now sufficiently powerful to force a showdown with the West, in the hope the latter would let the city go.

2. He may have felt this was as good a time as any to test or try to shake the solidarity of the United States and West European alliance. Would some of the West Europeans, or even the United States, be willing to face the war over Berlin?

That's a question which must have been in the Soviet mind a long time. Khrushchev may have decided it was time to look for an answer. One thing is certain:

If the West backs down on Berlin, reaching an agreement which would leave the city and its people open to Communist absorption, the whole Western alliance is weakened and may be ruined.

That would be a wonderful bargain for Khrushchev at very little expense. The only expense would be the time and the wind he used up in making the threat.

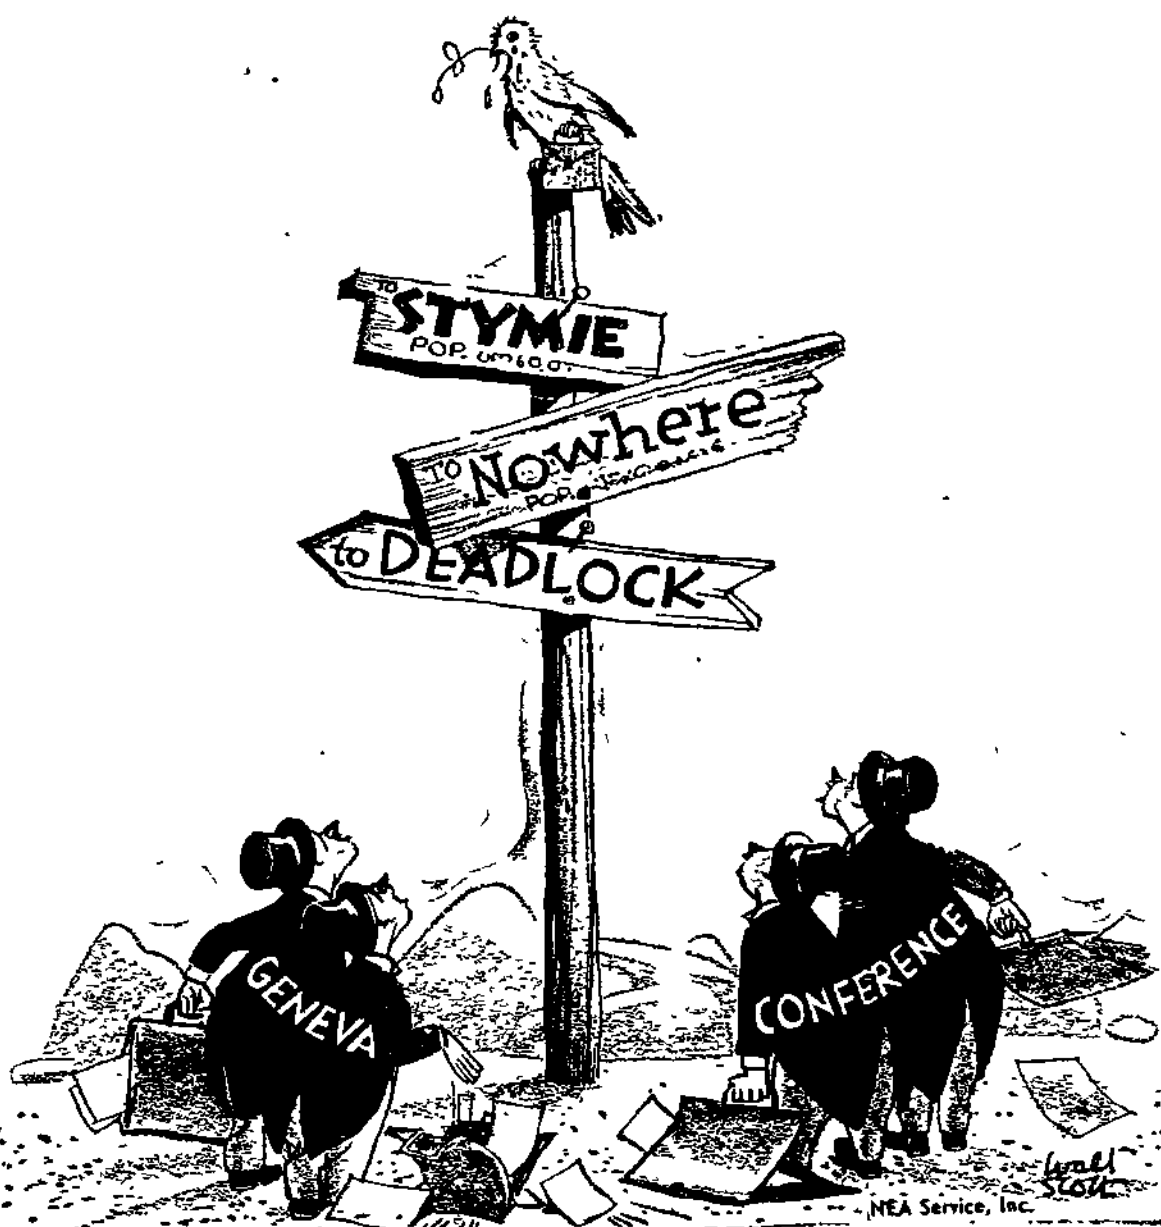

These are exactly what they appear to be: Guesses, even though they look like obvious ones. But no one can pretend he has the positive answers. And because the West doesn't have the answer it is to that degree involved in a guessing game.

That alone puts it at a disadvantage in trying to negotiate a settlement with Khrushchev. In the end the only way open to the West to overcome this disadvantage may be to end negotiations and tell Khrushchev:

"You made the threat, now make good."

If the West reaches that point the crisis will be here in earnest.

All Roads Lead to Home

Here and There

Our good friend L. G. Ittel, 706 Cornplanter Avenue, has made available to us a copy of a book entitled "Old Times in Oiltown," compiled by George W. Brown, from a series of chapters in which are related "the writer's many personal experiences during 'Fifty Years of Life in the Oil Regions' at the time of publication fifty years ago. From time to time, between now and the Oil Centennial Celebration on August 29th we'll be taking the liberty of reprinting excerpts from book, such as the following, which appears quite timely in view of the Historical Society's contemplated 'trip to Pithole' this weekend. Entitled "Pithole and Livery Charges," it says: "A few words about teaming. The word teaming meant something when Oil City was a shanty town. The soft alluvial soil on the Haddon flats was good material to form mortar beds of, when nothing could be moved without that faithful servant of man—the horse—and as business boomed to such an extent that thousands of horses were needed to keep things moving, the flats soon became, in a rainy time, one mammoth mudhole. Now, to illustrate things, and to give the modern reader a slight idea of the cost of doing things at the time of which I write I will give an account of my first oil venture. I was taken in as a partner of J. C. & D. Mead, to operate a lease on Cherry Run, about a half mile above Rouseville. I owned a quarter interest and was unanimously elected superintendent. Well, to make a long story short, the first well was finished at a cost of about $9,000. The reader may think there was mismanagement on the part of the superintendent in running up such a bill as that in putting down one well in 'shallow territory.' After an explanation, the reader will think different. The teaming was the great factor in the big expense account. In the first place, a boiler was drawn onto the grounds by four span of horses, at $18 a span. Then, after trying to drill a few weeks, the fact leaked out that there was not enough flues inside the boiler and the old saw-log shaped thing was hustled aside and a new $2,000 boiler put in its place. This last venture was satisfactory. That high-priced boiler was equal to the task of making steam to keep the unwieldy old second-hand engine in motion. But now let us look again at the cost of this $9,000 job. Here is where the text 'teaming' comes in again. This big boiler would not boil without heat, and to make heat wood or coal was required, as wood was about $5 a cord delivered, we used coal, cranberry coal. From the mines to our oil well was one great river of well stiff mud. This coal was hauled on wagons, to which was hatched three span of horses, and we paid the very modest little sum of $125 per bushel. The owners of the coal were not unreasonable in charging what seems, in these days of railroads, a big steal. The sellers of the coal were fair dealers. They could not get the coal out of the crude Cranberry mines and haul it through this deep mud as fast as the green operators would take it at $125 per bushel. Well, the reader can see at a glance without glasses, that this kind of work kept up for several weeks, with the little light tools of those days, could very easily reach the $9,000 mark. Scientific operators of today will wonder whether this company of Mead & Brown came off winners or losers. The answer is neither. Oil was $3.50 per barrel and the well panned out about 25 barrels a day, and kept up this production until the company sold out and were neither winners or losers, from a financial standpoint. But in an educational point of view, the company were the gainers. They came off with a few hundred dollars' worth of experience.

Another leaf from my own experience will help along this article with 'teaming' for the text. Mead & Co. (which means myself, and Nelson Mead, now of Corydon, Pa.) leased a building on a back street of Pithole City, and built a store house, of the rough order, on said lot. We were obliged to flatboat our lumber and material down the Allegheny from Irwin to Mead's Landing, a noted commercial point at the time. From the landing to Pithole City, four miles, was found a typical oil country mudhole. We (Mead & Co.) paid $20 per thousand to have our lumber hauled and delivered in our speculative building lot. The store room went up with a rush, at a cost of $800. When completed we were offered $1,800 for the building. We wanted $2,000 for it. Our customer wanted us to give him three days to think it over. We gave the time. At the end of three days he had dropped $800 and offered us $1,000. After a hurried consultation, Mead & Co. concluded that at this rate of dropping off, it would not take a very long time to get below cost. So we closed the bargain, content with $200 profit on our venture. Our customer gave us $650 cash down and a bank note due in 30 days for the $350. At the end of 30 days when Mead & Co. called at the then waning oil metropolis, our customer wanted to give us the property for the $350 note. As we were not anxious to buy Pithole City property on the declining valuation, we refused the generous offer, and called on the bank and drew our $350. Mead & Co. were not a grasping corporation and their kind hearts could not be bought to the point of a $1,000 property

Top Officials Give Opinions On Presidential Hopes

BY PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—With everybody talking politics and nobody doing much about it, two appraisals of the 1960 situation have come to this reporter's attention which make more sense than most political gossip heard today.

Both are off-the-record opinions. The reason is that no one wants to stick his neck out too far on a prophecy a full year ahead of the nomination conventions. But they come from men—former high government officials now in private business—whose political experience, sound judgment and past rightness make them worth listening to.

FIRST THE DEMOCRATIC APPRAISAL:

There are nine candidates in the field. Five are U. S. senators—Humphrey of Minnesota, Johnson of Texas, Kefauver of Tennessee, Kennedy of Massachusetts, Symington of Missouri—to put them in alphabetical order.

Three are governors—Brown of California, Meyner of New Jersey and Williams of Michigan. The last two have slipped badly and Brown doesn't rate high in the polls.

Finally there is ex-governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, Democratic standard bearer in 1952 and 1956. He has just counted himself out for a third time. Nobody blames him. For no one in his right mind wants to get in the primary rat race this early, if he can possibly avoid it.

Senator Johnson is also trying to make like he is not a candidate. But somehow, these disavowals are never taken seriously unless put in General Sherman's famous words: "If nominated I will not run, if elected I will not serve."

THIS BEING THE SITUATION, the expert sizes it up like this: Senator Kennedy will go into the nominating convention with more delegates than any other candidate. His vote will not be big enough, however, to put him over on first ballot. He may be able to gain a little on the second.

The third ballot will be crucial. If Kennedy begins to slip, he is through. The thing to watch will be who begins to gain. If Governor Stevenson hasn't eliminated himself, it could be he. If not Stevenson, maybe Symington.

Johnson and Humphrey are discounted. The North won't take the former. The South won't take the latter.

That leaves one dark horse to watch—Kefauver. Politicians don't like him. He minimizes his own chances after two bad starts. But the man from Tennessee still has a following and has been running third in the polls.

Repeating, this is just one politician's guess. Changing conditions could alter the result completely.

NOW FOR THE REPUBLICAN APPRAISAL:

It is generally conceded that Vice President Richard M. Nixon is way out in front for the GOP nomination.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, his only challenger, is playing it coy. Furthermore, New York businessmen are down on Rockefeller. They consider him a traitor to his class because he raised taxes.

But a top executive of one of the leading industrial giants came to town not long ago with a list of things which the next U. S. president should be.

When this executive had listed the qualifications, someone in the room turned to him and asked, "Who besides Rockefeller in the Republican party meets all those requirements?"

The man thought and said, "Well, maybe you're right."

matter of FACT

The emperor Nero was suspected of having started the great fire of 64 A.D. in Rome, which destroyed all but four of the 14 districts, because he had long been seeking an excuse to rebuild the city. He rebuilt it splendidly; he widened the streets and used stone instead of wood for houses. As if to avert suspicion, he permitted the Christians to be blamed for the fire. He slaughtered them wholesale, using their bodies as torches to illuminate his gardens.

for $350. To show the reader that horseback riding was a luxury those days, to be paid for as well as teaming, I will say I hired a little horseless, with a saddle on, one day during my business career at Pithole City for the purpose of riding four miles, to McCray's Landing and return. When the trip was finished the liverman, who was not stopping at Pithole for his health, charged me $5. I told the dealer in horses that I did not intend to buy the horse, but only to pay for the use of it for two hours. A glance at the man's face showed that he meant business and I handed over the five without further protest. When I took into consideration the fact that I had, that very morning, paid 75 cents to a hotel man for sleeping in a haymow in a barn, without even a blanket I came to the conclusion that the liverman was quite reasonable in his charges, and was only keeping abreast of the times.

How to Keep Well

A LIFESAVING MACHINE

The artificial kidney is more than a dozen years old but did not come into its own until three or four years ago. When we wrote about the machine at that time it is doubtful whether there were more than a half dozen in use in this country. Nowadays every large medical center has a unit and a trained team of physicians to man the machine on short notice.

The principle of the device is not difficult to understand. The artificial kidney consists of a cellophane coil that rests in a stainless steel vat containing a special watery solution. A plastic tube is connected to a leg artery and the blood is forced into one end of the cellophane coil. The blood flows through the filter-like coil and out the other end. It then returns to the body via a tube that is connected to a vein in the arm.

[Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by letter if stamped self-addressed envelope accompanies request.] The blood distends the submicroscopic pores of the cellophane membrane allowing certain chemicals or poisons in the blood to pass through the coil and into the watery solution in the vat. The type of chemicals that are filtered out can be controlled by changing the pressure in the coil or altering the chemical constituents of the vat fluid.

The unit duplicates the work of the kidneys and if anything does the job many times faster. It is employed in uremia or in other conditions in which the kidneys fail to work and the excretion of urine is nil. The unit takes over temporarily until the kidneys begin to function again usually in a few days to three weeks.

The ability of the unit to remove poisons has made it a valuable treatment for those who have taken too many sleeping pills, salicylates, strontium or other drugs. It can be a lifesaving procedure because these noxious substances are removed 20 times faster than is possible through the kidneys normally.

EAR CLICKING

M. E. writes: When I'm tired I hear a tick-tock sound in one ear and the nose. Is this real or a hallucination?

Reply

It is real and does not come from a time bomb or an eerie alarm clock. The sound stems from twitching of the muscles of the eustachian tubes or eardrum. When a person is overly fatigued, these muscles may twitch as do those of the eyelids.

DEFECTIVE GROWTH

Mrs. D. writes: What causes dwarfing? My 33 year old is what the doctor calls an achondroplastic dwarf.

Reply

The cause of this type of dwarfism is not known but it begins before birth. In this condition the bones do not grow properly and, as a result, the arms and legs are shorter than normal. Many authorities believe it is a hereditary disturbance that crops out from time to time.

HORMONES AFTER OPERATION

E. D. H. writes: After a hysterectomy, is it necessary to take hormones for the rest of your life?

Reply

No. Much depends upon why the uterus was removed, on how much ovarian tissue remains, and whether menopausal symptoms are uncomfortable enough to warrant hormonal treatment. Furthermore, physicians are cautious about prescribing female hormones if there is any question of cancer.

GARLIC FOR FLAVOR

Mrs. A. P. writes: Is the use of garlic in the diet healthful or harmful?

Reply

Neither Garlic is a herb and its scent lingers on the breath for 24 hours. It has no magic powers and will not prevent disease or purify the blood.

Business Mirror

NEW YORK (AP)—Low ceilings are plaguing Washington again. The secretary of the Treasury keeps bumping his head on the federal debt ceiling, and now he's bumping it on the bond interest ceiling.

Congress keeps raising the debt limit temporarily or permanently or in combination so the Treasury can pay the bills that Congress has okayed.

In financial circles, there's a growing belief that ceilings aren't realistic anyway. It's argued that they cramp the secretary of the Treasury without deterring any of the things they're supposed to. But a lot of congressmen won't buy this.

They say that putting a limit on how high the federal debt should go is a moral victory even if frequently it isn't an actual one.

And they say that interest rates should be kept low to aid home builders, small businessmen, installment plan buyers and farmers.

These congressmen look for other ways of doing this than just letting the nation's monetary and financial structure work itself out in a free market dominated by the supply of and demand for borrowed money and credit.

Some congressmen are urging the nation's money managers to increase the supply of money and credit.

This would hold down the interest rates, although in boom times the easier money gets usually the more the demand for credit grows, especially for speculative adventures. And usually as money gets cheaper, the higher the price of other things rises.

Counselors Prepare For Camping Season

Swimming, archery, crafts, sports and games, hikes, cooking over an open fire, singing around the camp fire, sleeping in tents, and many other activities are the reasons Girl Scouts go camping at Birdsall Edey.

This past weekend, counselors who will be in charge of these girls attended a three-day training session to review their campcraft skills and make final plans for the two sessions of camp this summer. Under the leadership of camp director Miss Ardelle Johnson, the following camp leaders took part:

Sally Bechtel, Youngville, program director; Clarence Bull, Youngville, nurse; and Mrs. Ethel Schreckengost, Tidouite, Cook. Unit Leaders: Mary Withington and Mrs. Mary Lyon, Youngville, and Grace Tigani, Clarendon; assistant counselors: Peggy Sherwood, Youngville, Carol Stover, Sheffield, and Bonnie Palmer, Rosie Leopold, and Gail Wilson from Fairview; swimming assistant: Marcia Myers, Erie; Trading Post manager, Molly Wendelboe, Warren.

Those not in attendance at the training but planning to serve on the staff are Carol Brewer, Brownfield, swimming director; Joan Specht, Warren, assistant swimming counselor; Mrs. Ruby Ransom, Youngville, assistant cook; and Joanne Worley, Fairview, assistant counselor.

The two 12-day sessions begin July 6th and 20th, respectively, and there are still vacancies for those who wish to attend.

Starbrick Community Bible School Closes

A very interesting Daily Vacation Bible School was conducted at Starbrick Community church the past two weeks, concluding with a well-attended demonstration service last Sunday morning.

Many of the parents and friends were surprised to learn all that was accomplished during the two weeks. Mrs. C. H. Bueckle, superintendent of the school, reported the average attendance was 53.

The program consisted of Bible questions, drills and songs and a very interesting and instructive object lesson revealing that Christ desires to enter life when emptied of self and sin. A brief address on the subject "The Child—the Greatest in the Midst", was given by the pastor.

The closing benediction was reverently given by the children and everyone left with the feeling the loyal, patient and diligent efforts of the workers were very rewarding.

Mrs. Preston Taylor, NFMS president, reported 154 members raised nearly $6,000 for all purposes through the society, 220 greetings were sent to missionaries, as well as many boxes of clothing and supplies.

Norman Jefferson, Sunday School superintendent, reported all officers and teachers worked efficiently, stating average attendance in Sunday School has increased to 310 for the year and stressing need for an addition to the church to accommodate the expanding school. He announced the Sunday School picnic Saturday at Wilder Field and was elected to serve another year by a fine vote.

The following church school board members were elected: Mrs. Paul Klenck, Joyce McFarland, William Spetz, Mrs. Norman Jefferson, Gladys Judd, William Spetz, Sunday school treasurer, reported funds of $2,500 expended.

Delegates to the District Assembly at Butler July 22 and 23 are: Mrs. Norman Jefferson, Preston Taylor, Mrs. John Andree, Karen Graves, Mrs. Ronald Rieder; alternates, David Trauffer, Marilyn Rieder, Mrs. Raymond Phelps, Mrs. Roger McFarland and Joan Sorensen.

Mrs. Gail Lyle reported for the communion committee; the flower committee was complimented by the pastor. Rev. Andree, reporting as chairman of the trustees, drew attention to the splendid appearance of the property.

John Trauffer, treasurer, stated receipts for the year exceeded $32,000 with general budget, mostly for foreign missions, over $7,000, well overpaid, and all other budgets and bills paid or overpaid and a substantial balance in the treasury.

Mrs. Harry Cowles, church secretary, gave an inspirational report. Rev. Andree commended the finance committee, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Phelps.

In conclusion, Rev. Andree summarized activities in his ninth annual report, noting advancement of each department of the church, making 1,300 pastoral calls for the year, in addition to preaching at every appointed time except one, due to illness, conducting Hymn-Tones, religious education class, marriages and funerals, as well as being president of the Ministerial Association of the past year, trustee of Eastern Nazarene College and district advisory board member.

Plans Fall Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Sterley, 19 Park avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Felicia Louise, to Robert Wesley Bloom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Bloom, 204 Quaker road. A fall wedding is planned.

Miss Sterley was graduated from DuBois Senior High School and attended Spencer Hospital School of Nursing in Meadville. Mr. Bloom, alumnus of Warren High School, was a June graduate of Allegheny College in Meadville. While in college, he was active in the American Chemical Society, the Society for Advancement of Management, Student Council traffic committee, and was a member of 623 Club.

LTL Speech Contest At Central Meeting

For the regular meeting of Central WCTU in Dunham parlors of First Methodist church, the hostess was Mrs. Bessie Johnson with her committee, Mrs. Margaret Nelson, Mrs. Booker and Edith Langdale.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Edith Muir and members joined in singing the hymn "I Am Thine". Mrs. Ruth Lindquist sang "Be Still My Soul", with Mrs. Harriger, accompanist.

An excellent speech contest was held by members of LTL, with Connie Mealy awarded the silver medal and Paul Warren bronze medal. The children were all praised for their fine work and the words "Train a child in the way he should go" gave a deeper meaning to the work. Lulu Boyd gave an interesting book review, the chapter entitled "The Sin of Drunkenness".

Mrs. Trauffer, president, presented a book and a cash gift to Mrs. Bessie Johnson, who plans to leave soon for California. Mrs. Johnson responded in her usual gracious manner, and members are all conscious of the work she has done, and how much she will be missed.

Routine reports were given and Mrs. Meredith reported the union is a 100% Torch Member, a high honor in National WCTU.

The annual picnic will be held at the home of Mrs. Ray Brownell on July 9, with members and friends invited. The dinner will be served at 1:00 o'clock, with each asked to bring a tureen and dishes; coffee and cream to be furnished by the committee.

GARDEN CLUB

Pittsfield Garden Club members held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Hettie Pilling. A fine picnic dinner was followed by a business session and election of the following officers: Paul Langdon, president; C. H. Briggs, vice president; Mrs. W. W. Allen, secretary; W. A. Gray, treasurer. The next gathering is scheduled July 1 at the home of Henry Danielson.

Encroaching 'Togetherness' Has Oozed in Office Door

Men, you'd better watch it. This "togetherness" fever is beginning to spread from the home to the office. So if you don't find a quick cure, you're likely to find yourself without any retreat from "togetherness" at all.

What ought to have you worried is the news that the wives of the four top executives of one company have been hired as "consultants" by the organization their husbands run. Maybe, by now, the correct term is "ran."

As consultants, they entertain at business luncheons, hold conferences, travel with their husbands, and even team up on business golf dates. They stretch the idea of "togetherness" to the point of borrowing their husbands' secretaries.

Well, anyhow, that's what I read in the paper. And though the account said it was all the husbands' idea, I can't buy that.

It wasn't the men's magazines that started preaching the "togetherness" gospel in the first place. The women's magazines can take the credit—if anybody thinks they deserve credit—for that.

It hasn't been the husbands who have sponsored "togetherness" in the home. It's been the little woman's pet theory and she is the one who has been pushing it.

So if it moves with force into the business world, you can be sure it will be the little woman who sells the idea to her husband.

That's the reason for this warning. Beware of such suggestions as, "If you'd fire your secretary and let me do her work, think how much money we could save," or "What you need is the woman's angle. I'd be glad to sit in on your next sales conference."

When you get that word, it means "togetherness"—togetherness at the office as well as at home. And, brother, that's an awful lot of togetherness for any man to have to put up with.

Hair Responds to Hot Day's Care

A salon permanent is the basis for this summer hairdo which will get a gal comfortably through hot weather. It looks simple but it's based on expert cutting and setting. Hair is not parted (left). It's combed straight back from the forehead (center) and swirled over the ears (right). Wispy bangs cover the forehead. It's a hairdo that a gal can handle at home herself once she's watched an expert set it. It will look smooth during working hours, can be dressed up with flowers or glittering pins for evening. The salon permanent that is the basis for this hairdo will keep the curl despite the sea air at the beach or the high humidity of mid-summer. It also makes hair easy to manage.

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

Summer is a capricious season where beauty is concerned. For sun and humidity can bring on some troublesome hair problems.

While the sun is tinting us a lovely, golden tan, it is, at the same time, robbing our hair of the natural oils that give it luster. And the inevitable humidity can make any gal's crowning glory as limp as boiled lettuce leaves.

A little sun won't hurt your hair. It may even leave charming glints of gold here and there. But too much will turn it into dried-out, strawlike strands that will be impossible to manage. It's necessary during the summer months to care diligently for your hair. Use an after-shampoo wave cream that contains lanolin. And get a good hair conditioner for daily use. Continued use of hair cream will be good protection from the sun, and should leave your hair shiny, but not oily.

However, the most important step in counteracting the damage that summer can do both to the appearance and texture of the hair is to have a permanent that will replace the natural elements that sun and humidity take away. There is a new salon permanent that should be an excellent choice for hot weather hair care. It is a product of extensive laboratory research and is claimed to actually build up the hair shaft rather than weaken it.

The waving solution used, the makers say, will penetrate the hair shaft and become a fixed part of the central core, strengthening the hair.

This type of permanent should add body and control to the hair, and give it a firm, springy formation that will be the best weapon you can have against humidity. Just remember that though summer may be the care-free season, you can't relax where your hair is concerned.

If you swim, wash out the salt water immediately, and use hair cream before you put on your bathing cap. If you plan to stay in the sun for a long time, cover your hair with a sun hat or a kerchief.

Above all, start off your summer hair beauty with the right permanent wave.

If you take these simple precautions, you can enjoy the sun and summer fun, and your hair will still be lovely for the more formal fashions of autumn.

The Mature Parent 'You Smiled It, Dave—Now You Can Mop It Up'

Dave's mother was trying to spoon applesauce into his little brother's mouth when Dave knocked over his glass of milk. There was a pause. Then, with protesting weariness in her voice his mother said, "Why can't you ever watch what you're doing?" She got her mop and started to wipe up the spilled milk.

The idea of asking Dave to wipe it up never entered her mind. It couldn't. For, like all of us who let other people overwork us, Dave's mother feels a good deal of resentment at her health: children's endless demands on her. But she's only half-aware of it. It seems such a mean, unnatural feeling she's afraid to become fully aware of it.

To live with this uncomfortable suggestion that she doesn't love her youngsters the way she ought to she has developed a driving need to prove that she does.

So when Dave spills his milk the need overwhelms her, and there isn't any room in her mind for the idea of asking him to wipe it up. Like a puppet pulled by invisible strings she gets up and proceeds to do his work for him.

Which is unfortunate. Because 6-year-old Dave doesn't register the work his mother is doing for him. What he does register is the secret irritation with which she does it. And frightened by it, he'll use the rest of the afternoon to pester her with new demands on the hope she'll somehow respond to one with genuine interest and kindness.

So it makes no sense whatever for child guidance experts to tell her that Dave needs to learn to correct his own mistakes. She's too absorbed in her own need to prove herself loving and patient to have any interest in his need.

The only way she can use their wise counsel is to become fully aware of her resentment.

As long as she fears it as evil, she can't. Actually, it's an appealing sensation. All Dave's mother is really doing as she resentfully wrings out her mop for the fourth time is to say, "See how overworked I am? Won't someone please help me?"

The trouble is, Dave can't translate her resentment into its innocent meaning. Which is why she must try to translate it for him. And instead of rushing for the mop, say, "All right, get the mop dear. Sop up the milk, and show Buddy how well you can help Mother."

MR. AND MRS. GROVER C. LESLIE

First Methodist church in Fort Pierce, Fla., was the scene of a lovely candlelight wedding at 4:00 p. m. June 12, when Miss Kaye W. DeLong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. DeLong, of Warren, became the bride of Grover C. Leslie, son of Mrs. Madge R. Leslie of Fort Pierce and the late Grover C. Leslie, Sr.

Palms and baskets of white blossoms formed the setting, with illumination from lighted tapers in floor candelabra. Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Carl Myers, organist, and guests were escorted to their places by Clifford B. Ellis and Rodney Dorsette of Fort Pierce.

Mrs. Ralph Elswick of Grundy Va. sister of the bridegroom was matron of honor; Miss Linda DeLong Warren, was her sister's bridesmaid. Their gowns of medium blue organza over light blue taffeta were complemented by blue headbands, adorned with pink blossoms and pink tulle fans holding vanda orchids.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white lace over taffeta, with scalloped neckline, long tapering sleeves, and graceful floor-length skirt. Her shoulder-length veil was attached to a pearl tiara and her flowers were a crescent bouquet of white phalaenopsis orchids backed with ivy leaves and white satin loops

William T. Ashley, Vero Beach, served as best man; John P. Huffman was groomsman.

Wearing corsages of lavender cattleya orchids, Mrs. DeLong wore blue silk and white accessories, Mrs. Leslie was in pastel pink and matching accessories.

Pink carnations and roses, with lighted pink candles, featured the reception decor in the church social hall. Miss Julia Elswick, niece of the bridegroom, was at the guest book; Mrs. Richard Sloan and Mrs. William T. Ashley, of Vero Beach, served punch; Mrs. Jayne Ritter served the wedding cake, which was tiered and topped with a bridal couple.

When the couple left for a trip through southern Florida, the bride was wearing a beige linen sheath and white accessories. Upon their return, they will live at 1502 Ponce de Leon Prado.

The bride, a registered nurse on the staff of Memorial Hospital in Fort Pierce, attended Warren schools and was graduated from WCA Hospital School of Nursing in Jamestown, N. Y.

Mr. Leslie attended public schools in Pikesville, Ky., Pikesville College, University of Miami, and received his degree from University of Kentucky. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha, social fraternity, and is employed in the Memorial Hospital bookkeeping department.

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—King Vidor is back from directing the toughest film of his long and colorful career—a Biblical epic shattered by the death of Tyrone Power.
Soft-spoken Vidor, who seems more like a college professor than the director of films like "The Big Parade," "Northwest Passage" and "War and Peace," has returned briefly to the Hollywood home he has seldom seen in recent years. The reason is that he has gained a reputation of being able to film foreign-made epics. None of his many movies was as difficult as "Solomon and Sheba," to which he is now adding the final touches.
"We had established a point of no return, when we would be unable to finish the location scenes in Spain because of bad weather," he recalled. "That was Nov. 15. We had two months of exteriors to film, so that meant we had to start on Sept. 15."
"We were right on schedule and had just about finished the exteriors. Then on Nov. 15, Tyrone died."
The director said that his first reaction concerning the film was to use all his film-making tricks—employing doubles, playing the

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Poultry prices stiffened this week, putting added pressure on the bargain-seeking food shopper. Chickens and eggs have been marked up, although the penny or so advance in fryers is irregular with declines in scattered areas. Eggs are up virtually everywhere, rebounding 2 to 8 cents, a pound from the lowest levels in 18 years. The higher egg prices are attributed to a seasonal slump for chickens, whose production falls off in hot weather.
Pork prices also are undergoing closeups on co-star Gina Lollobrigida, using shadows, etc.

"I could have done it if we had shot the film in reverse," he said. "But we had left all the love scenes and intimate stuff for the last."
Yul Brynner was signed to replace Power, and the company resumed filming after a week's delay. Except for a few extreme longshots, none of Tyrone's footage remains in the picture.

Other best buys among vegetables include cabbage, yellow or green squash, spinach, parsley, cucumbers, yellow onions, radishes, snap beans, potatoes, endive, escarole, peas, carrots, tomatoes, and corn.
Southern and Western peaches again head the list of outstanding buys among fresh fruits. Mangoes, blueberries, pineapples, bananas and limes also are available at low prices.

South was one point shy for his two no-trump opening. North was about one point shy for his jump to six.
Two overbids usually add up to trouble but with a little bit of luck plus double dummy play South managed to land on his feet.
The luck started with the opening diamond lead. Of course, the queen of diamonds was in the right place all the time but it helped to find it at trick one.
South decided to attack the hearts. He went to dummy with the jack of clubs, led a low heart, finessed his jack, cashed the ace of hearts and West showed out.
His next play was a low spade from his hand. East won with the eight and led the jack back. South finessed the queen and cashed the ace. West showed out but everything was all right now. South was ready to squeeze East.
All he had to do was take his king of diamonds, go over to dummy's king of clubs, discard one spade on the ace of diamonds and lead to his ace of clubs.
East could not guard his queen of hearts and keep the high spade at the same time.

Shepherd Lyn Johnson Makes Excellent Dem Leader

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sometimes you just have to cry and cry over the terrible problems facing that old Texas sheepherder, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.
As Democratic leader, Johnson has the chore of driving, coaxing, bullying his flock along so that some work, or a reasonable facsimile, can be completed.
Now it's hard to get agreement on anything in Washington. But here's one spot where opinion seems almost unanimous. Editorial writers, pundits and the senators themselves say Johnson does a good job.
Oh, occasionally some senator isn't asking the sheep where they want to go. And there's always baa-baa-baaing in the old corral over when the shearing, or vote-counting, should take place.
But Johnson is recognized, even by the complainers, as a canny politician, a master of a difficult and demanding craft.
Naturally Johnson doesn't object to this flattering picture.
But recently he seems to be worrying that maybe the impression is too fixed, that maybe everyone is assuming that this is all easily done with mirrors.
At any rate, he has been on his feet again and again. Sometimes sorrowfully, sometimes humorously, sometimes petulantly, he makes this point: riding herd on the Senate isn't easy.
And the way he explains it, it isn't.
Let's suppose the Senate is sauntering toward a vote on a controversial appointment. Why doesn't it talk itself hoarse, pick a date, and vote?
Simply because, Johnson says, each senator has a different idea of when that great day

Stolen Rundown Car Recovered "All Fixed Up"

LONDON (AP)—The thief who stole Jim Scott's rundown automobile did him a good turn.
When the auto disappeared from outside salesman Scott's home a week ago, it was black. There was a hole in one side of the hood. The fenders were buckled. The engine was missing on one cylinder.
Police telephoned Scott to say they had found his car.
He gaped when he saw it. It had been sprayed maroon. The fenders were new. The busted hood had been repaired. And it went like a bird.
Police explained how it happened.
The thief abandoned Scott's car five miles away—directly behind another auto of the same make. The owner of the second car had arranged with a garage to have his vehicle picked up for repairs.
A mechanic arrived and drove off in Scott's auto by mistake. The error was spotted only after a $224 rejuvenation had been carried out. Scott won't be asked to pay, said a garage spokesman.
And the auto that was left standing in the road?
It was stolen.

Potato Peeling Is Becoming Lost Art in U.S. Families

BOISE — More and more of Idaho's potatoes are going to market in brightly colored packages and cans instead of the brown burlap bags in which they won their first fame.

The change is having far-reaching effects on the consumer and the producer.

For the housewife, it means the elimination of much of the preparation in serving, for example, an inviting dish of mashed potatoes.

But more important, for the producer it means a stabilized market for the product that has had a history of economic ups and downs since the russet potato brought Idaho its fame as a tuber-producing state.

One of the leaders in the potato marketing change has been J. R. Simplot of Boise. He has been a potato producer since 1929.

Then it was a matter of planting the potatoes in the spring, keeping them cultivated and watered during the summer, harvesting them in the fall— and praying for a good price.

In 1940 Simplot built a processing plant in Caldwell for the production of dehydrated onions. Within a year he had begun processing potatoes, too. Now he operates plants in Caldwell, Builey and Heyburn.

Others have entered the field and plants are producing frozen or dehydrated potato products in Idaho Falls, Builey, Shelley, Blackfoot and at Ontario, in Oregon just across the border from Idaho.

"The whole program is aimed at stabilizing the potato business," Simplot says. "Now we go into the farming areas ahead of the planting season and make firm contracts with the growers. The farmer knows before he plants his crop that he will be able to sell it."

One of the advantages of the processed potato is the reduction in weight. Freight charges

Florida Camps Closed Because Of Race Issues

LEESBURG, Fla. (AP)—There will be no summer camps at Weekiwachee for some 100 Presbyterian boys because of threats of violence if Negroes were included, a church leader has announced.

The Rev. Terrell K. Kirk, pastor of the Leesburg Presbyterian church and camp director, said the threats came from persons in Hernando County, where the camps are located.

One camp was to operate for white children with the other open to "qualified boys 11 to 14 from any of our churches," said Kirk.

"No individuals were specifically threatened," Kirk said, "but members received word of the threats through residents of the Brooksville area" in Hernando County, on the Gulf of Mexico north of Tampa.

The Presbytery is St. Johns, one of five in Florida. It includes churches of the Sebring, Sanford, Deland, Daytona Beach and Orlando areas.

One Orlando member is the Washington Shores church, a Negro church.

"We felt that it was only right and proper that young people from all of our churches should be allowed to attend the youth camp," said Kirk.

A decision to cancel the camps came at a meeting of the presbytery in Daytona Beach.

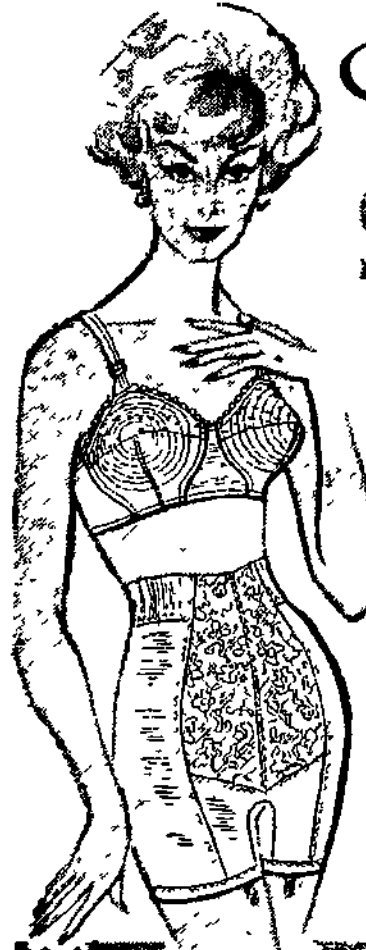

A letter announcing the cancellations said the presbytery is taking steps "to provide for unhindered conduct of our camp program next year."

RADIO and TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP)—Three more hard-working television stars are leaving the nation's screen for their summer vacations.
Pat Boone winds up his ABC season tonight immediately followed on NBC by Tennessee Ernie Ford.
Garry Moore, still has almost another week to go, but his Tuesday night show will suspend, too.
Ford's time will be filled by a new dramatic series called "21 Beacon Street," starring Dennis Morgan who also happens to be one of Ernie's guests tonight.
Moore's departure means the arrival of singer Andy Williams who has been making a career out of summertime TV shows.
Pat Boone's time—last year filled by Andy Williams—this summer goes into reruns of last winter's "Leave It To Beaver" series.
You may feel that there are more repeats and reruns this summer than ever before, but actually the situation seems a touch better than last season. Still, you have to keep a steady hand on the channel selector if you want to steer clear of familiar sights. During the so-called prime viewing hours from 8 p. m. through 10 p. m. weekday nights on the three major networks, reruns range from five—on Wednesday nights—to 12 on Friday. On Monday and Tuesday there are a total of 10 during these two and one-half hours; on Thursday nights 11, not even counting shows which are mixing up new shows with old ones.

Tonight's 15-round championship fight between Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson, at Yankee Stadium, will be broadcast exclusively by ABC-Radio, although there will also be a closed-circuit television broadcast for paying theater customers—not the home viewers.

Lawrence Wants To Address Joint Session Monday

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence today asked the General Assembly for time to address a joint session of the House and Senate members on Monday.
Although there was no hint of the subject of Lawrence's talk in his brief statement, the governor is expected to talk to the lawmakers about his stalled tax program.
The request from the governor came as Democratic leaders of the House issued new challenges to the Republican minority to "quit playing politics" and get to work on Lawrence's request for some 200 million in new taxes.
J. Dean Polen, Democratic chairman of the House appropriations committee, refuted statements made last week by GOP Leaders Albert W. Johnson that deficit estimates for the 1957-59 budget could be cut to 122 million dollars. The administration estimate is 141 million dollars.
Johnson said that House and Senate GOP leaders would meet over the weekend and they hoped to have a final position on budget and taxes "early next week."
On Lawrence's request for an appearance before a joint session, Johnson said he'd be "most happy" to hear what the governor has to say.
But, the McKean County Republican added, "I'm sure he is going to come in here and tell us to get moving on revenue bills."

Changes at National Forge

RALPH E. LUDWIG

JOHN H. KIRK

Two promotions in the management of the National Forge Company at Irvine, were announced today by Robert O. Wilder.

On July 1, 1959, Ralph E. Ludwig will become Vice President of the company and John H. Kirk will become Director of Industrial Relations.

Mr. Ludwig advances to his new position after 32 years service with National Forge. During this period he has held the positions of chief metallurgist, general superintendent, and his most recent position as director of manufacturing. In his new position, Mr. Ludwig will concentrate his manufacturing experience on the problems of the company's growth and expansion and the search for new product ideas and opportunities.

As director of industrial relations, John Kirk will report directly to the president and be responsible for the administration of the wage, salary and benefit program for all Forge personnel. He will continue to supervise all the service functions of the Personnel Department. In addition to his responsibility for the community relations program of National Forge, Mr. Kirk will also be responsible to the president for the recommendation and development of the company's personnel policies.

Mr. Kirk joined National Forge in 1946. His most recent position has been manager of industrial relations.

A devotee of music and dancing is this delightful Queen's Contest finalist whose name is Rosemarie Comberlati. Rosemarie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Comberlati, c/o 1310 Pennsylvania Avenue East.

A 1959 graduate of Warren High School, Rosemarie, who is 17 years old, was selected by her fellow students as the best all around girl in her class. At graduation ceremonies earlier this month, she was one of three graduates to win the New Process Company Award which is presented annually to the commercial student or student most likely to succeed in business.

This attractive finalist served as secretary of the senior class and was also a member of the National Honor Society. Being a Queen should come naturally to Rosemarie. BUSINESS BRIEFS

NEW YORK (AP)—The boom in aluminum is picking up speed. Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. Wednesday scheduled its fourth increase in primary aluminum production in two months. The company will put 22,000 additional tons of capacity into production June 28 by reactivating another potline (producing unit) it Mead, Wash.

This will raise Kaiser's total output of aluminum to 90 per cent of capacity. The company attributes the increase to "steady, continuing gains in market demand."

NEW YORK (AP) — Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. got an okay from the Federal Power Commission to acquire a trillion cubic feet of new natural gas reserves in a 134-million-dollar deal.

The company will buy producing properties in the Ryane gas field in Acadia Parish, Louisiana, from Continental Oil Co., Sun Oil Co., General Oil Co. and M. H. Marr, joint developers of the field.

NEW YORK (AP) — Lockheed Aircraft Corp. awarded an eight million dollar contract to the Automotive Division of North American Aviation Inc. for electronic armament control systems.

Soldier-of-the-Month

In a letter from Major. Gen. Charles E. Beauchamp, commanding officer of the 1st Cavalry Division in Korea, Mr. and Mrs. Gid Van Ord of Akeley RD 2 have learned of special honor paid their son, Pfc. Norman Van Ord. The self-explanatory communication reads:

"I am very pleased to tell you that your son, Pfc. Norman Van Ord, has been selected the 'Soldier of the Month' for the 1st Cavalry Division. This morning I had the pleasure of meeting your son and presenting him with a letter of commendation and a monetary prize as token of the occasion.

"He was selected 'Soldier of the Month' as a result of exhaustive competition in many respects of soldierly conduct among the outstanding soldiers of all units of the division. This achievement reflects great credit on your son and upon you, his parents.

"We of the 1st Cavalry Division are proud of your son's fine performance as a soldier."

Young Van Ord was graduated from Eisenhower High School in 1952 and from the Pennsylvania State University in 1957. He was inducted into the Army April 15, 1958 and has been stationed in Korea since October of that year.

St. John's Bread Available to Public

A bread dating back to Benedictine monks from Bavaria days in 1856 is available today through the facilities of Stroehmann Bros. Baking Co.

St. John's Bread, a famous tradition, is baked today from the same centuries-old recipe brought from Bavaria by the Benedictines.

In 1856 a small dedicated band of Benedictine monks brought to the Minnesota territory a centuries-old tradition of teaching and a traditional recipe for an unusual kind of bread.

It was a hearty loaf made from grains grown on their own land. The harvested grains were coarsely ground and baked on an open hearth, producing a nut-brown loaf similar to old German "Schwartz Brot."

To this day at every meal freshly baked loaves of St. John's Bread are served students and in the monks' refectory. Students leave St. John's to remember the "Johnny Bread" of student days.

This bread is on sale at all stores carrying the Stroehmann line.

County is Well Represented at Training School

More than 200 4-H Club young men and women from all sections of Pennsylvania, including Nancy Curtis and Georgia Skinner from Warren County, are enrolled this week in the 30th annual Leadership School at Penn State University in an intensive training program aimed at developing their leadership skills. Blaine Schlosser, assistant county agent, said the knowledge they gain will help these young people assume advanced leadership responsibilities in their 4-H Clubs and communities. An even stronger 4-H program, now at an all-time high, was expected to result from the week's training program. Those who have reached age 21 since the 1958 school will be honored in a special citizenship citation at the closing exercises Friday morning.

Two visiting students are attending from Delaware—Connie E. Hill, Bridleville, and Richard Ulmer, Hockessin, and two from New York—Nancy Wheaton, Oneonta, and Edward L. VanKampen, Ithaca.

Paul Runniger, Franklin, R.D. 1, and Marianne Thomas, Danville, R.D. 4, delegates to National 4-H Conference in Washington, will report on that event.

Speakers will include Dr. H. R. Albrecht, associate dean of the College of Agriculture and director of agriculture and home economics extension and Dr. William M. Smith Jr. Dr. Smith now a member of the Penn State faculty has been named state 4-H Leader effective July 1.

Dairy Farmers Voting On Marketing Orders

Dairy farmers have until midnight Friday, July 3, to vote in a mail referendum on a proposed amendment to the New York-New Jersey milk marketing orders.

The amendment, concerning transportation differentials, must be approved by two-thirds of the dairy farmers voting in

Constitutional Changes Favored By Pa. Lawyers

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania attorneys Wednesday were urged to support constitutional changes recommended by the Pennsylvania Commission on Constitutional Revision.

Superior Court Judge Robert E. Woodside and Secretary of Internal Affairs Genevieve Blatt said the General Assembly is giving too little attention to recommendations made by the commission.

Judge Woodside, Miss Blatt and Jefferson B. Fordham, dean of the University of Pennsylvania Law School, expressed their views in a panel discussion at the summer session of the Pennsylvania Bar Assn.

All three served on the 15-member commission that was set up by the State House and Senate in 1957.

The three speakers said the current session of the General Assembly has moved toward reducing the voting age from 21 to 18.

the referendum before it becomes effective.

Under the proposed amendment, rate of transportation differentials applicable to the Class -A and Class I-B price—fluid milk—the fluid skim differential and the uniform price, would be changed from 1.4 cents to 1.2 cents per ten-mile zone.

Strauss Plans To Accompany Ike On Montreal Trip

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lewis L. Strauss, whom the Senate refused to confirm as secretary of commerce, will travel to Montreal with President Eisenhower Friday for ceremonies marking the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway. The White House announced this, in making public the list of government officials who will accompany the President and Mrs. Eisenhower to their meeting in the Canadian city with Queen Elizabeth II.

The Senate rejected the Strauss nomination last week by a 49-46 vote. The President called it a "sad episode" and said the American people were the losers.

Strauss, serving as secretary of commerce by recess appointment since last November, reportedly is planning to resign shortly. But indications are he will accompany Eisenhower to Montreal in his official Cabinet capacity.

The President's plane, Columbine III, will take off for Montreal at 7:50 a.m. Friday. The flight takes about two hours.

Traveling with Eisenhower in addition to Strauss and his wife will be Secretary of State and Mrs. Christian A. Herter; Canadian Ambassador and Mrs. A. D. P. Heaney; Sen. and Mrs. J. William Fulbright; Sen. and Mrs. Alexander Wiley; and Livingston Merchant, assistant secretary of state for European affairs and former ambassador to Canada.

Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, is making the trip in his capacity as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Wiley, Wisconsin Republican, is the senior GOP member of that committee.

Just in case you Mothers hadn't realized it — summer vacation time is here! — and in many cases with a real vengeance! There are those, who have willingly taken off for camp in the past — but not this year! Others are participating in so-called sleep-outs (you know the variety—they're out and you don't sleep!) And, as you approve all recreational facilities in the area (and who says we lack same?), the transportation to same can and does create some interesting complications. Happy Summer, everyone!

By the same token, we find many other people (children included), who have inadvertently become victims of an accident or crippling illness (while we grieve about the most ridiculous inconveniences). There are families, you know, with real problems... those who should have the use of hospital beds; wheel chairs; walkers or other sick-room equipment. Many of these folks fail to realize that such necessities are quickly, reasonably and easily available right here in Warren. A twist of the dial — phone RA 3 — (we'll tell you shortly), will bring to those who need complete details a good news concerning a truly marvelous service.

The "Family Drug Store" since 1891 — The Warren Drug Store features everything for the sick. It's much easier to care for your loved ones who are ill, if you make it easier for them and for yourself. As you save them untoward distress when you use proper equipment, so do you save yourself! Why not inquire about this special Warren Drug Store service?

Honestly — we aren't trying to be strictly commercial — BUT — we just had an experience that is probably repeated in many a household! If you live with a man who enjoys golf — or any other outdoor sport, you are undoubtedly well acquainted with that sack-full of dirty socks, sport shirts and unmentionables! Not only that... it's likely that you are informed that until same are washed and dried, THE MAN is in rather desperate straits! Our recommendation is that the timing could be improved by supplementing HIS wardrobe with extra copies of more of the same... i.e., the more he has to get dirty, the fewer times you need fill the washing machine! If this doesn't make sense to you, just leave it this way... it's better to launder once in a while than to swish those suds daily!!

The finest shopping place in town is The Style Shop and the widest variety is always available. If HE hasn't time to shop for himself in order to build up an easily maintained wardrobe, YOU can safely make purchases for him... at The Style Shop, where the "best in menswear is a byword." Just as we said... the more necessities readily available, the fewer the washer loads.

May we quietly add our wel-

Why don't you mail a helpful and needed contribution to them immediately? We live in a FREE world, but these outstanding, annual affairs do cost a bit of dough!

Columbus Herd Scores Highest In Production

Richard Trisket's Holstein herd leads Warren County in production for the month of May, reports Blaine Schlosser, Assistant county agent. Trisket's herd of 15 registered Holsteins averaged 1512 lbs. of milk and 56 lbs. of butterfat per cow. Repeating in second place is Lester Peterson, Pittsfield, whose herd averaged 1434 lbs. milk, 64 lbs. fat; third place again goes to Edward Day, Youngsville, with a herd average of 1420 lbs. milk, 54 lbs. fat; in fourth place is Leroy Stoddard, Sugar Grove, his newly acquired herd averaging 1387 lbs. milk, 51 lbs. fat; and again in the fifth place position is Carleton Curtis, Columbus, whose herd average was 925 lbs. milk, 50 lbs. fat. Leroy Stoddard has now purchased the Anderson herd which he has been managing for some time — so this is not a new herd in fourth place, but is just a new owner. Again, all top herds are Holsteins except the Curtis herd which is Jersey.

The top ten individual Warren County cows milked over a

The highest record, 652 lbs. butterfat, was made by a Guernsey animal, the other nine high records were made by Holsteins. The testing was done by Darrell Johnson of the Warren County Dairy Herd Improvement Association, and the records then processed under the IBM system by the Pennsylvania State University.

Threat of Rain Dampens the Prospects of Title Battle

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, grudgingly determined to win the public's full acclaim, and Ingemar Johansson, just as eager to become Sweden's first world boxing champion, clash tonight — weather permitting — in their long-awaited title fight.

The 24-year-old New Yorker, making his fifth defense of the crown, was a strong, 4-1 favorite today to beat back the challenge of the undefeated, 26-year-old European champ on the 15th rounder before 35,000 at Yankee Stadium. Starting time is 9:30 p.m. (EST).

With the bout outdoors, the weather was the main concern of the principals as they headed for the weigh-in ceremony at a mid-town hotel. The forecast was for increasing cloudiness and a chance of showers in the afternoon and evening. If a postponement is necessary, the fight will be held Friday night.

With the closed circuit telecast to theaters and arenas, coast-to-coast radio (ABC) and the movies thrown in, Patterson figures to make between $400,000 and $500,000 and Johansson from $150,000 to $200,000.

The lopsided odds, the picks of most of the experts for Patterson

Johansson, a strong, 138-pounder, is accustomed to fighting the standup classic style fighters of the British-European school. They don't go in much for body punching.

Patterson's style is vastly different. He holds his gloves in front of his face, peek-a-boo style, and his forearms protect his body. From that position he strikes out with flashing fists, aiming searing combinations to the body and head.

This observer believes Patterson will cut down his rival with these punishing body blows in one round.

Bleacher Seats Up At Diamond

Nameless Nine nemesis came from behind to out-hit and out-score 400 Block Merchants 12-6 on West Side diamond last evening.

Jim Tinelli pitched "brilliant" ball for Nameless combined. Jim Sturdevant looked in good form in a losing role.

Winners were down with a four run deficit before attacking toward a victory. Box score on the game was not reported because team players, score keeper and managers worked on the softball diamond on West Side to erect bleachers after the game.

Softball Improvement Committee purchased the seats and donated them to Warren borough.

New bleachers will be used for the first time tonight when Nameless Nine and Soda Mineral go in a City title.

Representatives of Industrial Softball League today said it was their hope that "this is the beginning of something to bring people out to the games."

Phillies Sign College Pitcher for Big Bonus

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies today announced the signing of a University of Arizona pitcher for a "big bonus."

Although the club would not disclose the amount handed 21-year-old David Baldwin, it was believed quite substantial since 13 other teams were bidding for his services.

Baldwin, a right-hander from Tucson, Ariz., had a 10-0 record and 133 strikeouts during regular season play with Arizona, which participated in the "NCAA college baseball "World series."

He will report to the Phillies' Class A Williamsport club of the Eastern League Sunday.

Dodgers Beat Phils To Make It 8 of 11 On Home Stand

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers made it eight out of 11 on their current home stand, which they started in fifth place, and swept their third straight from Philadelphia Wednesday night, 9-6. That tightened their grip on third, just a game behind San Francisco and only three short of first place Milwaukee.

The Braves retained their two-game lead by beating St. Louis 4-0, in a game eddy the seventh inning by rain, after San Francisco had defeated Pittsburgh 4-3. Cincinnati whipped the Chicago Cubs 5-0.

Right-hander Jim Brosnan blanked the Cubs on four hits for his second shutout in the majors and first nine-inning job in 13 starts since Memorial Day, 1958. Brosnan (3-3) got this one by giving up nothing but singles. He walked three, struck out seven.

The Reds backed him with a four-run first against loser Dick Drott (1-2) after two were out. Ed Bailey's two-run homer capped it.

A bases-loaded error by center fielder Bill Viridon, whose single had given Pittsburgh a 3-3 tie in the top of the frame, gave the Giants the winning run in the ninth. Viridon dropped a bloop fly by pinch-hitter Leon Wagner after colliding with second baseman Bill Mazeroski. Mike McCormick (5-7) was the winner, with Bernie Daniels (4-6) the loser, both in relief. The Bucs' Dick Stuart and San Francisco's Willie Kirkland swapped 400-foot-plus home runs

Baltimore Bunt Again Makes Tribe Look Like Suckers

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's something about a Baltimore bunt that makes Cleveland's Tribe a bunch of dead injuns.

Remember when the Orioles gained a share of the American League lead two weeks ago? They did it when the Indians goofed twice on a bunt that scored three runs.

Wednesday night, the Orioles were at it again, jumping into second place, a half-game behind the front-stumbling Indians, when an error on a bunt gave them three ninth-inning runs for a 7-4 victory at Cleveland.

It was the fifth defeat in seven games for the Indians while Baltimore, scoring its first four runs on solo homers by Gus Triandos, Walt Dropo, Billy Gardner and Bob Nieman, leap-frogged the Chicago White Sox with its sixth victory in eight games.

The White Sox skidded to third with a 4-2 defeat by Washington, their sixth loss in eight games. Kansas City barred New York's chance for a third place tie by beating the Yankees 4-3. Boston held Detroit in fifth, handing the Tigers their fourth straight defeat, 4-2.

The A's, who had lost seven of nine to the Yankees, stopped that nonsense behind the seven-hip pitching of southpaw Bud Daley (7-5). Dick Williams figured in all the Kansas City runs, hitting a two-run homer in the fifth against loser Jim Euston and singling along with Bill Tuttle and Roger Maris for the clincher in the seventh against reliever Jim Coates.

Solar Bombers Use Jones Chevy For Fourth Win in Order, 9 to 7

Solar Electric Bombers ran their win streak to four straight Wednesday evening on Memorial Field when they vaulted to an early lead over Sheffield combine to win 9-7.

The City Softball team won a reversal of last Monday's game which saw Solar easily walk away with a 20-2 triumph over Sheffield.

Jones Chevy nine were given extra power on home runs by Labesky and G. Bires in sixth to knot the count 7-all. Bartholomew clubbed a circuit run for Solar.

Solar batters clubbed Nelson for 15 hits and 5 bases on balls. The Sheffield hurler fanned only one batter. Stevens allowed six hits, walked 6 and struck out 11.

On a single by Bonavita and three straight passes preceding Kotmar's sacrifice fly and Randa's single through short, Solar jumped to their 3-run lead in third. Hustling Sheffield crew pounded back for two runs in their half on solid hitting by Labesky and Kolesar.

Each team garnered one tally in fifth, Solar holding the edge, 4-3. Bombers scored three in sixth, featured by Ned Bartholomew's circuit clout to deep left. Two runners were on base.

In their half, Sheffield clipped Stevens for four runs, Labesky and Bires' homers sparked the uprising. To break the 7-7 deadlock, Solar pushed two across in seventh. Stevens held Jones at bay in bottom of the seventh to nail down the win.

T. Bonavita, with three hits in four times at bat and two runs to his credit, paced the Bombers. Andy Randa was also 3-for-4. Don Labesky 2-for-3 led Sheffield.

A top contest so far this season will be played next Monday on West Side diamond between the explosive Betts Black Knights and Solar. Knights will be gunning to maintain their "tough" policy, while Solar is out to hold their win streak intact. Also Monday, the 400 Block Merchants and Soda Mineral clash at State Hospital.

Olmedo Getting His Chance For Revenge Today

By STERLING SLAPPEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Alex Olmedo got his chance for revenge today.

The United States Davis Cup star from Peru meets Ramana- than Krishnan of India, probably the best non-seeded player in the tournament, in the third round of the All-England Tennis Championships.

Last week Krishnan whipped Olmedo in three sets in the semifinals of the London Championships at Queen's Club. The quiet spoken Peruvian has vowed it'll not happen again, especially at Wimbledon where he is seeded No. 1.

But Krishnan went into the match saying:
"I've got nothing to lose. I'm going for everything and I might beat him again."

Lee Petty Riding High in Winning $5

Lee Petty, reliable Randleman, N. C. race driver, seems set on hanging up an all-time money winning record for NASCAR drivers.

He's already banked over $27,610 this season.

Most of it was won in 16 Grand National events, with a big chunk coming from his controversial victory Feb. 22 at Daytona International Speedway. He collected $19,050 for that sweepstakes victory.

Steady Petty has seldom finished lower than top half dozen places. He has won three Grand Nationals.

Ed Lubanski Contracted

Ed Lubanski of Detroit, who stunned a TV audience Monday night by rolling two perfect 300 games in Miami, signed a long-term exhibition contract with AMF Bowling Promotion staff. Lubanski will be available for exhibition and instruction work throughout the country.

Lubanski's back-to-back 300 games Monday were made on 24 consecutive strikes. Each time, the ball rolled into the 1-3 pocket. Lubanski, whose record smashing performance in ABC Tournament set an all-time All-Events record, has bowled about 20 perfect games in past 10 years.

NATIONAL OPEN

CHICAGO (AP)—National Open Champion Bill Casper today headed a field of 150 teeing off in the $7,000 Chicago Open. The 72-hole test over the exacting Glenageles municipal fee course carries the biggest purse distribution of the summer tourney trail. The winner pockets $9,000.

Major League Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pitching—Jim Brosnan, Reds, blanked the Cubs 5-0 on four singles, walking three and striking out seven for first complete game in more than a year and first shutout in three seasons.

Hitting—Don Buddin, Pete Runnels, Red Sox, each had three hits and each had an RBI single in deciding, two-run seventh inning that beat the Tigers 4-2.

Stuart clinching berth at first base with singles.

Pirates' mound choice for the closing contest of the four-game series this afternoon. The Giants called on Stu Miller (4-3).

Bob Friend started Wednesday's tilt for the Pirates but was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the seventh. Bennie Daniels was charged with the loss, making his record 4-6. He was the third of four Pirate pitchers, being preceded by Elroy Face and followed by Bob Porterfield.

With the bases loaded in the Giant ninth on three walks, pinch-hitter Leon Wagner hit a high fly off Porterfield back of second.

Viridon ran in for the ball; second baseman Bill Mazeroski ran back. Viridon had the ball in his glove when they collided. The ball bounced to the ground. Viridon was given an error and that was the ballgame.

Stuart's homer, his 15th, was a 430-foot blast in the second inning that knotted the score at 1-1. Willie Kirkland walloped one about the same distance in the sixth and put the Giants ahead 2-1. They added another in the same inning on Orlando Cepeda's single, a sacrifice and Hobie Landrith's single.

Pittsburgh got one marker in the eighth on a walk by Roman Mejias and singles by Stuart and Bob Skinner. The Pirates tied it up in the ninth on Don Hoak's walk, a passed ball and Viridon's single.

Mike McCormick, last of three Giant pitchers, picked up his fifth victory against seven losses.

Tribe Banking on Young Twirlers

One of the most encouraging aspects of Cleveland Indians' 1959 pennant surge is the young pitching staff, rated best in the majors, which should form the nucleus of a strong mound corps for the next decade.

Tribe fans who recall what a successful season a strong pitching staff and not too much else accounted for in the early 1950's, should be assured that the Indians of the next few seasons will be pennant contenders as the front office feels.

Gary Bell at 22, 23-year-old Jim Grant and Herb Score at 26 have accounted for 18 of the Indians' 35 triumphs. Together with Jim Perry, 22, and Larry Locke, 25, these pitchers "must be the envy of every rival manager in AL."

Reliever Dick Brodowski, looked upon as a veteran because he joined Boston Red Sox when he was 20, is 26.

While Cal McLish is 33 and Don Ferrarese 30, each of these two still have plenty of pitching left and is typical of those pitchers who develop somewhat late.

Veechiato Scores Unanimous Win Over Scanlon

CHICAGO (AP)—Italian lightweight champion Mario Veechiato wants another U.S. fight as soon as he can get it.

"I need another fight in this country," he said through an interpreter after a unanimous 10-round loss to Bobby Scanlon of San Francisco Wednesday night. "I wasn't acclimated. I need to learn fighting like the Americans do it."

Scanlon's superior infighting piled up points in the televised bout at Chicago Stadium.

The Italian outweighed Scanlon 136 pounds to 135.

Scanlon's victory gave him a 33-3-1 record. Veechiato is 43-4-6.

Kuenn Changes His Mind About Tiger Shakeup

By DAVE DILES
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP)—Harvey Kuenn, who called Bill Norman's firing a "bum rap," says the manager who succeeded Norman as manager has the Detroit Tigers thinking more about winning and less about personal glory.

Kuenn's booming bat has been a major factor as the Tigers have bounced off the American League floor and become a first place contender. But the Tiger veteran, the league's leading hitter, gives most of the credit to Jimmie Dykes.

When Norman was fired May 2, Kuenn lashed out at the Detroit management. "Bill Norman got a bum rap," Kuenn said. "It's not his fault we're not winning."

At the time, the Tigers had lost 15 of their first 17 starts. And the players were hearing old charges that they were merely fat cats contented with any old spot in the standings.

Veechiato Scores Unanimous Win Over Scanlon

CHICAGO (AP)—Italian lightweight champion Mario Veechiato wants another U.S. fight as soon as he can get it.

"I need another fight in this country," he said through an interpreter after a unanimous 10-round loss to Bobby Scanlon of San Francisco Wednesday night. "I wasn't acclimated. I need to learn fighting like the Americans do it."

Scanlon's superior infighting piled up points in the televised bout at Chicago Stadium.

The Italian outweighed Scanlon 136 pounds to 135.

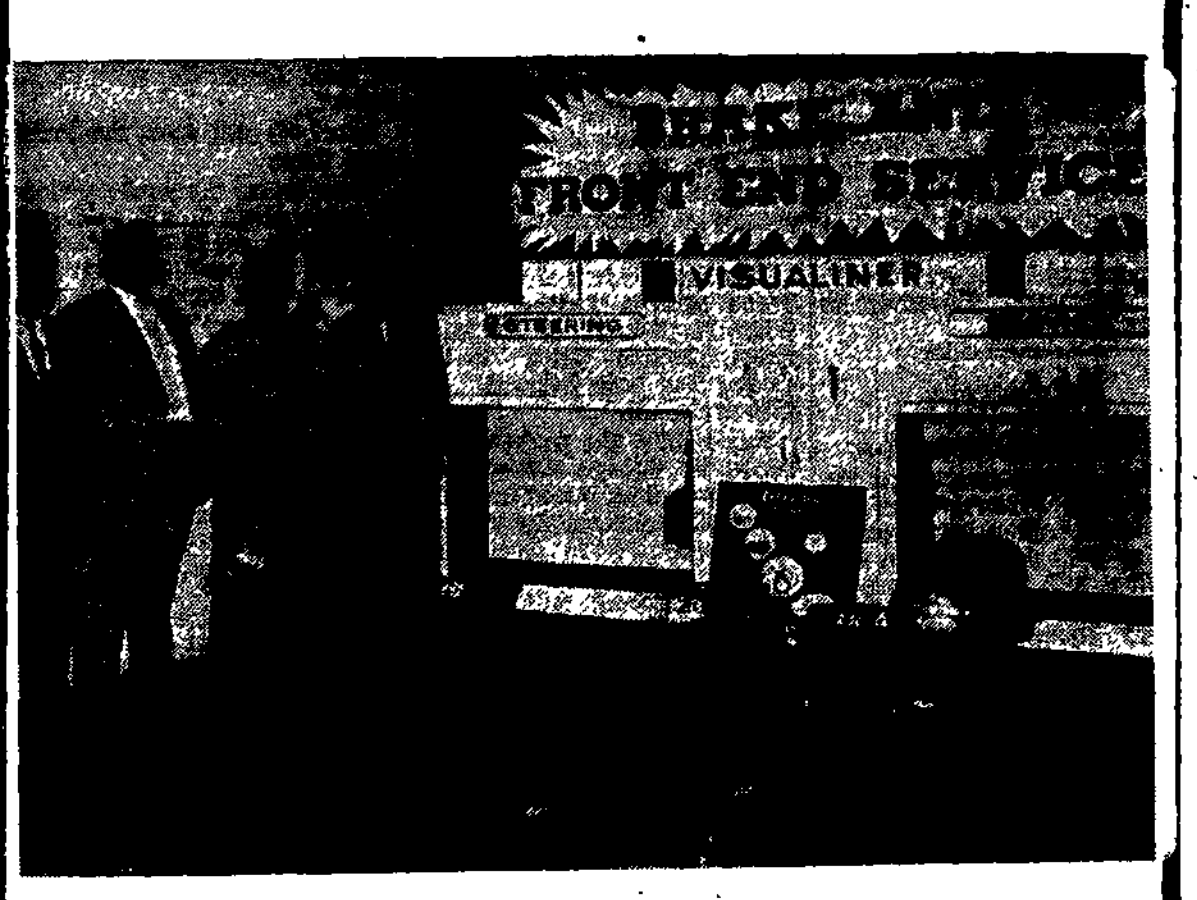

Scanlon's victory gave him a 33-3-1 record. Veechiato is 43-4-6.

Radar Eye Checks Local Speeders

Unobtrusive eye of radar checked motorists driving on Market street and Madison avenue Wednesday and found the greater part of the cars checked were going over the posted speed limits.

The check, offered by Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association Casualty Insurance Company throughout the Commonwealth in conjunction with local police, is used to promote interest in highway safety and to assist local authorities in gathering data to evaluate local traffic problems.

L. A. Neubert, Safety Engineer and David L. Johnson, Supervising Safety Engineer, conducted the radar check for the Casualty Company.

Intoxicated Motorist Nabbed by Police

Borough police arrested a Warren man on drunken driving after they saw him strike a parked car near H. L. Link garage on Pennsylvania avenue west last evening.

Arranged before Justice of Peace Martha Lawson today, Willis English, 62, of 222 Eddy street, pleaded guilty to the charge and was released on $250 cash bail.

English hit the parked auto, owned by George Hunter, RD 1, Warren, then pulled onto the apron of Jackson's gas station. Walking across the street in an attempt to find the owner, English's staggering gait encouraged officers to have the man examined for intoxication.

Damages to each car were estimated at $25.

Upon investigation, it was found English was driving during suspension, his privilege being revoked on a similar charge.

seaway, the joint U.S.-Canadian project that can bring three-fourths of the world's ships to the heartland of America.

A cruise aboard the six million dollar yacht Britannia will take them to Beauharnois, Que., from the seaway entrance at St. Lambert. They will go through the first two in a series of locks, the liquid stairways which lift shipping 224 feet from the St. Lawrence River into Lake Ontario.

Seaway authorities are still ironing out kinks. But two months of operation have proved the system works. More than 1,500 ships have used the waterway since it opened April 25.

Friday, in less than 12 hours, the President will fly, walk, motor and sail about 1,000 miles.

Flying from Washington, Eisenhower will land in his plane Columbine III at the St. Hubert Air Base. This jet fighter center eight miles east of Montreal is a unit in the North America Air Defense network that maintains contact 24 hours a day with NORAD headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo. About 17,000 persons, some of them Americans, work at St. Hubert.

Elizabeth will meet the President there.

Even during the royal greetings a group of pilots will be in the ready room, set to take off in CF-100 jet interceptors if northern radar stations signal an attack.

There will be a 21-gun salute for the President. While the Queen watches, Eisenhower is to inspect a 100-man honor guard.

Then Elizabeth and the President, along with Canada's Prime Minister John Diefenbaker will drive to the Queen's yacht anchored at St. Lambert, across the St. Lawrence from Montreal.

A 21-gun salute by a Canadian warship will send the yacht on her way up the seaway canal.

The Britannia is to pass through symbolic gates in the canal to formally start the seaway on its career.

The party will dine aboard the yacht, watching out portholes and pass Canadian and American warships in line in Lake St. Louis.

At the Beauharnois Locks, 31 miles up the 185-mile-long seaway channel to Lake Ontario, the President is to take leave of the Queen to return to Washington.

Eisenhower will spend five hours aboard the Britannia. Whether the trip changes his mind about the use of yachts remains to be seen. He ordered the presidential yacht Williamsburg out of commission in 1953, calling it a symbol of needless luxury.

The Queen Friday will be repaying Eisenhower for the hospitality he showed her and Prince Philip when they visited Washington in 1957. This time she is visiting only one city in the United States, Chicago.

Union

definitely. Meanwhile, bargain talks are stymied with nothing scheduled pending the outcome of the union sessions.

The steel companies called for a continuing delay of any July 1 strike. They proposed extending present contracts from their Tuesday midnight scheduled expiration until such time as either side gives a 10-day advance expiration notice.

McDonald declined to say what course he will recommend to fellow union leaders. He made clear a feeling that the industry has boxed him in.

But he noted there was no guarantee under the industry contract extension proposal that any gains that might be negotiated would date back to Tuesday's expiration.

McDonald said the union has given the steel industry a specific contract settlement proposal. He said it was noninflationary but he refused to provide details. Cooper said it was nothing the industry could consider as reasonable.

The workers now average $3.10 an hour and $127.10 a week.

The situation seemed to spell a steel strike next week in large capital letters.

It was clear the workers, plagued by unemployment and short work weeks with diminished pay checks in 1953, have little stomach for a strike. But there was little thought they would defy a union strike call.

Cooper served a virtual ultimatum on the union. He said that unless the contract extension is accepted today the industry will have to start shutting down Friday.

Satchmo

who accompanied him to this little central Italian town for a musical festival insisted, almost tearfully:

"He never had any kind of heart attack. He just blew himself out, that's all. Any musician who blows on a wind instrument for years suffers some weakening of the heart. That's inevitable."

And Satchmo—the satchelmouthed music man from New Orleans—has been making magic on his sweet-toned horn since the birth of jazz.

In dramatic evidence of his rise from the old tin pan days of New Orleans music, Armstrong lay ill in a town dedicated to Italian classic opera.

He was invited here to play for the "Two Worlds Festival" of European and American music in the Spoleto Theater, dedicated to promoting Italian opera.

ton attorneys to stave off the appointment with death.

All hope gone, Starkweather's mother, Mrs. Guy Starkweather and other family members made a final call on the killer, then left by a side gate to escape some 25 newsmen and photographers milling about the main entrance.

Guy Starkweather, the father, who had handled the last ditch reprieve tries here, stayed away. He said he had "work to do," but did not elaborate.

Greenholtz said Starkweather spurned a final steak dinner and settled instead for some cold meat cuts. He did some painting, some reading and visited with Prison Chaplain Robert Klein as the end neared.

His last words as officials went to fetch him for execution: "What's your hurry?"

Starkweather, five-foot-five and bow-legged, vaulted into notoriety in January of 1958.

Accompanied by his 14-year-old sweetheart, Carl Ann Fugate, he set out on a killing spree. Nine victims in and around Lincoln and one in Wyoming were counted in three days as authorities sought the teen-age fugitives.

Starkweather, following capture near Douglas, Wyo., admitted an earlier unsolved slaying in Lincoln to bring his death count to 11.

He was tried specifically in the shooting of Robert Jensen, Bennet, Neb., schoolboy whose body and that of his girl friend, Carol King, were found in a storm cave about 20 miles from Lincoln.

Jurors rejected an insanity plea and recommended death. Carl, tried six months later was convicted of first degree murder and drew a life sentence.

War Secretary Hector Solanas Pacheco admitted that a number of army officers for whom arrest warrants had been issued were still at large. Many were believed in the military barracks at Cordoba, the center of current agitation against Frondizi and the starting point of the 1955 revolution which overthrew Dictator Juan Peron.

Vice Adm. Isaac Rojas, a leader of the anti-Peron revolt, predicted Wednesday that Frondizi would face a revolution "within a few days or a few weeks" if he did not resign immediately.

The 62 labor unions known for their Peronist sympathies issued a communique accusing Frondizi of failing to keep his campaign promises and blaming him for "errors which have brought the country to the verge of chaos."

Alsogaray's appointment as the country's economic and labor czar was certain to increase the union's opposition to Frondizi.

Torrential rains have swollen the Peh and St. West rivers, that converge with the Tung or East River above Canton and flow to the South China Sea through the Pearl River estuary. The rains reportedly continued in the Peh watershed Wednesday, but the Tung was said to have begun dropping.

Details on the situation were scarce and reports contradictory. But they show China is still vulnerable to age-old natural calamities.

Explanation Asked From Dominican Republic

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Dominican Republic has been asked to explain why a U.S. Air Force transport was forced down and why the American ambassador was tricked into shaking hands with a secret agent of President Rafael Trujillo.

The State Department said Wednesday the Caribbean country has not replied to either complaint.

A third reported incident, the halting of an American freighter by firing a shot over its bow, is under investigation.

The department said the Air Force transport was forced to land at Ciudad Trujillo by a Dominican fighter plane, which fired a burst of machine gun bullets. The transport was en route from Puerto Rico to Cuba.

The plane was quickly allowed to take off and continue on its way.

Senate Votes to Repeal Passenger Travel Tax

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted today for repeal of the 10 per cent tax on passenger travel, effective Aug. 1.

Voice votes accepted this proposal from its finance committee and also a proposal for repeal of the 10 per cent communications tax, effective July 1, 1960.

The Senate action put the repealer into a bill, already passed by the House, to extend for a year at present rates various excise and corporation income taxes now due to expire July 1.

There appears to be little chance that the House will agree to the repealer which would cost the government about a billion dollars a year in revenue.

New Bill to Regulate Auditor Report Printing

HARRISBURG (AP)—The House Wednesday named three members of a joint conference committee to iron out legislative differences over amendments to a bill regulating the publication of county auditor's reports.

The House members are Harris G. Brath (D-Clearfield), Pat C. Trusio (D-Fayette) and James J. Davis (R-Forrest). The Senate, which did not meet today, also will name three members.

The committee will attempt to resolve differences in House Bill 1023 which originally required publication in at least two newspapers in the county involved.

But a Senate amendment would have permitted publication of the reports in a newspaper publishing outside the county if that county has only one newspaper.

The eviction notice reportedly stemmed from quarrels with the landlord over repairs.

The quads, three boys and a girl, born Wednesday, were reported in fine condition. The quads were the first children for the 26-year-old mother.

Committee Votes To Make Senators' Payrolls Public

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rules Committee voted Wednesday in favor of making senators' office payrolls public.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY), leaving a closed-door meeting of the committee, told newsmen the action was taken without objection.

The committee action will put the question up to the Senate.

Keating said the measure approved by the committee would require the secretary of the Senate to publish four times a year the names and salaries of all Senate employees.

The American Society of Newspaper Editors petitioned the Senate earlier to open to public inspection the record of salaries paid by senators to their employees.

The petition contended that citizens and taxpayers are entitled to know how public funds are expended.

Payrolls of House members are open for inspection, but the Senate attitude has been that the payroll question was one for individual senators to decide.

Some senators have made their payrolls public.

The question of payroll secrecy became a lively issue earlier in this congressional session with disclosure that numerous relatives of Congress members are on congressional payrolls.
